

Curriculum Vitae: 2022

Richard J. DeAngelis, M.D.

Skin Cancer Center, PA

Founder and President,

1991 - Present

1409 North Fant Street Anderson, South Carolina 29621

Medical Education

Doctor of Medicine (M.D.)

West Virginia University School of Medicine Morgantown, West Virginia

1983-1987

Postdoctoral Training

Intern, Family Medicine

West Virginia University Medical Center Morgantown, West Virginia

July 1987 – June 1988

Residency: Department of Dermatology,

West Virginia University

Morgantown, West Virginia

July 1988 – June 1991

Fellow

Diplomat American Board of Dermatology 1991

MEN # 05501870180

Re-certified 2001, 2011 & 2019

Fellow

American Society of Dermatologic Surgery (ASDS) - 1991 to present

Fellow

American Society for Mohs Surgery (ASMS) - 2005 to present

Founding Member

American Board of Medical Specialties in Mohs Micrographic Surgery

Sub-specialty Certification in Micrographic Dermatologic Surgery

American Board of Dermatology (ABD) - 2021 to present

Affiliate Faculty Appointment

MUSC and AnMed Health Dept. of Family Medicine - 2021

Publications

Kovach RF, DeAngelis RJ. "Mohs Micrographic Surgery." Textbook of Otolaryngology.

Editor: Dale Rice, Chairman of Otolaryngology/Head and Neck Surgery, University of

Southern California, Los Angeles, California, 1991

Personal Bio:

<http://www.skincancercentre.com/staff>

Practice Mission Primary Presentation

Scanning Dermoscopy in the early detection of Basal Cell Carcinoma, 2019

The use of scanning Dermoscopy to outline NMSC prior to standard or Mohs surgical excisions (pdf at link)-Large file loads slowly.

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1IX3Nk8TVNhVtBAidzneSKZ7wkNsfCSEO/view?usp=drivesdk>

Diploma of Dermoscopy

Richard J. DeAngelis, MD

Preceptor to: Allison Kenny, PA

HealthCert Diploma of Dermoscopy:2020

A three tiered course curriculum (three 12 week on-line courses).

www.healthcert.com

Personal Passion

The education of health care providers in the early detection and best treatment practices of skin cancer.

Phase I (currently in progress)

A collaborative pilot project with the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC), and Anmed Health Department of Family Medicine

In conjunction with:

HealthCert

Course Director Paul Elmslie, MBA

www.healthcert.com

Primary Care Skin Cancer Courses at the University of Graz in Austria and the University of Queensland

<https://www.medunigraz.at/dermoscopy/>

https://my.uq.edu.au/programs-courses/plan.html?acad_plan=SKINCX5398

Personal Note:

I have an undying passion to bring a greater awareness to the availability of these outstanding online teaching resources in the hope of increasing the number of providers that are expert Dermoscopists and utilize this tool in their moment by moment practice for both the early detection of skin cancer and aid in the pre-clinical evaluation of such skin cancers prior to performing Mohs surgery.

Mentors & Courses that have revolutionized my daily practice:

Ashfaq Marghoob, M.D.
Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center NY, NY
Participant in yearly conferences and workshops from 2003 to 2015

American Dermoscopy Course
Meeting participant in five out of the past eight years.

International Dermoscopy Society (IDS)
Barcelona Meeting in 2009 and Athens in 2018 Co-instructor in an educational pre-conference course with Paul Elmslie of HealthCert along with many other leading skin cancer expert educators from New Zealand and Australia.

Skin Cancer Centre in Anderson SC serves as an on-site location for mentoring medical students affiliated with the Medical University of South Carolina and the AnMed Department of Family Medicine Residency program.

Richard J DeAngelis, M.D.
(864)-231-8599
(864)-231-8073 (fax)
(864)-940-7150 (cell)
dsscskin@gmail.com (email)
www.skincancercentre.com

Practical pursuits toward the affordable and competent care of an ever-expanding skin cancer epidemic.